

Grissom Defies Death After Space Shot

By BEM PRICE

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Astronaut Virgil I. Grissom successfully thundered 118 miles into the sky Friday only to wind up with a scramble for life from his flooded space craft and a swim.

Grissom, 35, was plucked wet but unscathed from the Atlantic Ocean 303 miles southeast of here by a helicopter only two minutes after abandoning his rapidly filling capsule.

The $5-million, instrument-laden capsule, Liberty Bell 7, sank beyond hope of recovery in 16,800 feet of water.

On his flight, Grissom attained a top speed of 5,280 miles per hour and thus became the fastest American ever, and the second American into space.

Head Full Of Water

The first words spoken by the terse-talking Grissom, after landing on the prime recovery ship, the carrier Randolph, were these: "Give me something to blow my nose. My head is full of water."

National Aeronautics and Space Administration officials said Grissom reported the capsule's side escape hatch blew off accidentally before the craft was hooked to a helicopter.

Grissom said he removed a safety pin preparatory to opening the exit and the explosive bolts which kept it secure fired inexplicably.

Grissom's space craft carried a new type hatch which was secured with 70 explosive bolts designed to hurl the hatch cover 25 feet in event of an emergency.

As soon as the hatch blew off, apparently, the seas rushed in, Grissom, in effect, floated out as he had been taught to do in training for such an emergency.

After the recovery, a reading of the in-flight conversations between Grissom and the nation's first astronaut, Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., told of additional minor troubles encountered by Grissom.

At one point Grissom reported his control system was sluggish.

Later, he said: "You might make a note there is a small hole in my chute. It is about six inches by six inches."

During a roll maneuver, Grissom reported "about all I can really see is clouds. I haven't seen a place to land yet."

During his flight Grissom became so enthralled by the view from his 19-inch-high "picture window" that he reported he momentarily forgot to carry out his assigned chores.

At one point he exclaimed, "The sun is really bright."

Despite his improved view, Grissom reported he was unable to pick up any landmarks because the ground was obscured by clouds.

Felt Good

Nine minutes after launch and as he re-entered the atmosphere, Grissom reported, "I feel good. Everything is looking good."

On the flight Grissom controlled his ship by releasing hydrogen peroxide gas from small jets. He made the ship yaw, pitch and roll.

At two points on the flight — and despite installation of supposedly improved equipment — voice communications with Grissom faded.

Grissom's big adventure began at 7:20 a.m. EST and ended with a small splash as the two-ton capsule was lowered into the water by a parachute 16 minutes later.

Then came the near tragedy of the hatch explosion.

Previous experiments with the capsule indicated that it filled almost complete 10 seconds after water reached the lower edge of the hatch opening.

In any case, NASA officials said that the loss of the capsule was not expected to slow U.S. preparations for an orbital flight late this year or in early 1962.

Robert C. Gilruth, Project Mercury director, said most of the vital information needed for the orbital program was obtained through telemetry—radio data recorders.

Gilruth bemoaned only the loss of the cameras and film installed in the space craft to record Grissom's reactions and to scan the instrument panels.

With this flight Grissom became the second American — and the third human — to enter space.

On May 5, Navy Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr., hurtled 302 miles along the same general flight path atop a similar Redstone rocket, reached an altitude of 116 miles and a maximum speed of 5,100 miles per hour.

President Watched

The first human into space was the Soviet Union's Maj. Yuri A. Gagarin, who orbited the earth for 108 minutes on April 12 at a peak altitude of 187 miles. His speed was nearly 17,000 miles per hour.

President Kennedy watched Friday's flight on television in Washington and then telephoned Grissom aboard the Randolph to express his "great pleasure and satisfaction" with the success.

While the President telephoned after the flight, Grissom's pretty and petite wife, Betty, telephoned before — and carried on the first wife-astronaut conversation in history while the husband was inside a missile-mounted space ship.

From her home in Newport News, Va., Mrs. Grissom and her sons, Scott, 11, and Mark, 7, talked to Grissom during the three hours and 22 minutes he spent on his space couch before launch.

After his 15-minute ride, Grissom was given a brief physical examination aboard the Randolph and then flown at 11 a.m. to Grand Bahama Island where he will remain for 48 hours for a more thorough examination.

Aboard the Randolph a spokesman for the space agency quoted Dr. Jerome Strong, an Army physician and one of the medical assigned to Grissom, as saying: "Our shipboard examination finds no abnormalities. He is in excellent spirits except that he feels unhappy about the capsule."

"Both Dr. Robert Laning of the Navy and I are pleased that he is in such excellent shape. All tests and observations are within normal limits."

While there apparently was never any danger that Grissom in his buoyant space suit would sink once he cleared the space capsule, the attempt to retrieve the water-filled capsule nearly produced a tragedy.

While one Marine helicopter went to Grissom's aid, a second tried to latch onto the sinking capsule — and the water-added weight nearly caused an engine failure.

Dragged From Water

Grissom was actually dragged from the water in a sling lowered from the "backup" helicopter whose crew were Capt. Phillip Upschulte of Quincy, Ill., and Lt. George Cox of Eustis, Fla.

While Upschulte and Cox were seeking to hoist Grissom into the cabin, the primary helicopter, piloted by Lt. James Lewis of Lufkin and Houston, Tex., with Lt. John Reinhard of Bloomington, Ill., hooked onto the capsule despite engine trouble—which had caused Upschulte to take over.

At this point little more than the rescue ring atop the 8-foot-high capsule was showing above water. As the engines of the helicopter strained against the added weight, a warning light flashed on the chopper's instrument panel indicating that the overworked engines were about to quit. The capsule was then cut loose and allowed to sink.

Meantime, Upschulte's craft was hovering over Grissom, who had now stroked his way about 70 feet from his spacecraft.

The wind force from the big fan-like blades drove Grissom under the surface momentarily and then he bobbed up like a cork to reach for his "horse collar" through which he slipped his arms.

After his dip, Dr. Laning reported, Grissom was "a bit shaky" but soon relaxed and had a second breakfast of orange juice, fried eggs and bacon.

Fire Destroys 5-Room Bungalow In Eastburg

FIRE DESTROYED a five-room frame bungalow occupied by Mr. and Mrs. George Ace at 31 Fulton St., East Stroudsburg, shortly after 11:20 a.m. yesterday. No one was injured.

Fire Chief Clarence Strunk said the cause has not yet been determined. He added that a can of gasoline kept on the cellar steps exploded from the heat of the flames and was instrumental in causing complete loss of the house.

Strunk added that the Day St. bridge is currently out. This, he said, delayed firemen in reaching the home. He said the building was an inferno when members of Acme Hose Co. No. 1 arrived.

Little Salvaged

Neighbors salvaged two shot guns, a rifle and a .22 owned by Ace, and a television set and a lounge. The remainder of the contents of the house were destroyed.

Mrs. Isabelle Read, who lives across the street at 30 Fulton St., and a friends who was visiting her, Mrs. Mildred Englert, 17 N. Fourth St., Stroudsburg, were among the first to spot the flames.

Mrs. Read said she heard Mrs. Ace's niece, Rosemarie Hinelein, 18, and the Ace's two sons, Ivan, eight, and Joseph, four, shouting. She looked out the window and saw smoke pouring from the building.

Helps Remove Children

Mrs. Read said she rushed into the house, pulled open the cellar door and found the stairway a mass of flames. She assisted in removing the Hinelein girl, the two Ace boys and a baby from the building. Mr. and Mrs. Ace were absent when the fire broke out.

Strunk last night issued a plea to persons owning power tools to refrain from storing gasoline in the house.

Monroe Eligible As Depressed Area

MONROE County will be declared a redevelopment area eligible for benefits under the area Redevelopment Act, according to word received yesterday from U.S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Penna.).

The official announcement, Sen. Clark reported, will be made in a few days.

The Area Redevelopment Act is designed to enable the Federal government, in cooperation with the state, to help areas of substantial and persistent unemployment and under-employment take effective steps in planning and financing their economic redevelopment.

Monroe County is in association with the Northeastern Industrial Development Commission. This unit combines the counties of Bradford, Carbon, Lackawanna, Luzerne, Monroe, Pike and Schuylkill as a regional set up for Federal aid.

Most of these counties have already been declared eligible for benefits.

Victor C. Diehm of Wilkes-Barre is president of the Northeastern group.

Serving on the steering committee for NIDC are the following businessmen from Monroe County: Montgomery F. Crowe, Horace G. Heller, John M. Crandall, C. D. Shull, LeRoy J. Koehler, William Altier, John Shanley and Martin F. Baldwin.

This group will meet Monday for further planning at Hazelton.

The Federal government will help such areas through a program of industrial and commercial loans, public facility loans and grants, and technical assistance. In addition, Federal funds are provided to finance extensive occupational training and retraining programs, and for subsistence payments to those undergoing training.

Loan Funds

The act provides loan funds of $200 million for industrial and commercial projects in redevelopment areas.

The act provides that each project will be supported by a combination of participants, public and private. It is clear from the comments made while the legislation was being considered, that Congress intended the act to be administered so as to encourage a maximum amount of local participation and private capital in every project.

For example, a typical project might be financed 50 percent from private lenders, 10 percent from a state development fund and 5 percent from a local development corporation, leaving 35 percent for financing by the Federal government.

This is, of course, an example, and the actual percentages might vary depending on the facts in each particular case, but in no event may the Federal share exceed 65 percent.

The interest rate on the Federal participation will be based on the current average yield of Treasury marketable obligations of comparable maturity, plus one-half of one percent for overhead. Currently, this means a rate of about 4 1/2 percent.

Types of Assistance

Five broad types of assistance are available under the Area Redevelopment Act.

They include loans for industrial and commercial projects; loans and grants for public facilities; technical assistance; occupational training and retraining subsistence payments.

The act provides two broad sets of criteria by which areas may be designated as "redevelopment areas" and thereby become eligible for assistance. The first set of criteria are related to the unemployment rate as specified in the Act and as computed by the Department of Labor.

A second set of additional criteria will be developed to include other factors which indicate a local condition of substantial and persistent unemployment and underemployment.

Military Buildup Answer Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP)—It was a foregone conclusion here Friday night that President Kennedy is prepared to disclose next Tuesday a sizable buildup in military manpower in the slowly maturing crisis over Berlin.

But how much will it be and what form will it take? Mobilization—either partial or full—of the National Guard and of the ready-reserve units? Heavy increase in draft inductions? "Freezing" of guard units now in camps into prolonged training duty? Intensive recruiting?

Each of these, and combinations of them, have been advanced as the real answer in published reports in the past couple of days. The field is so well covered now that White House press secretary Pierre Salinger told reporters Friday: "Somebody is going to be right."

Possibilities

Here's a rundown on the possibilities:

1. Full mobilization of guard and reserve ground forces—would involve about 900,000 men which would be far more than could be integrated into the effective military machinery before the end of this year—the informal but widely accepted deadline of Soviet demands that Western troops leave Berlin.

2. Partial mobilization—militarily and economically a much more feasible step. Defense Department officials have indicated belief that already-trained guardsmen and reservists could be welded into an effective force of perhaps 10-plus divisions—150,000 to 200,000 men—within six months.

3. Draft inductions—operationally, hardly more than a supplemental source in terms of a six-month sprint.

It is true that Selective Service officials have asked state boards to increase their pools of ready-for-call registrants so that it will reach the 100,000 figure which prevailed until 1959 but which now has slipped to about 70,000. But Army officials have not increased their call for 8,000 August inductions.

4. "Freezing" of guard units—this would appear to be a short-term expedient that could raise even more protests than partial mobilization.

Six Guard Divisions

At present, there are six National Guard divisions — some 75,000 to 85,000 men—in or about to start their annual two-week summer training exercises at camps and forts.

These are the 26th (Massachusetts), 28th (Pennsylvania), 30th Armored (Tennessee), 36th (Texas), 35th (Kansas-Missouri) and 38th (Indiana).

5. Intensive recruiting — same short-term drawbacks as draft inductions. This probably would be employed, along with the draft, if Kennedy asks an increase in the Army's present authorized strength from 875,000 to 975,000. Actual current strength is about 856,000 and the heavier draft call for August is intended to help close this gap.

Jacob Altemose

Altemose is completing his third term as sheriff in Monroe. He resides with his wife and family at the corner of Phillips and 8th Sts., 471 No. 8th St.

Other officers named at Friday's session of the 39th annual conference included Paul Reed, Blair County, first vice president; Joseph Mock, Luzerne County, second vice president; and Ernest Kistler, Lehigh County, secretary-treasurer.

Other members named to the executive committee were William M. Lennox, Philadelphia; Charles Ammerman, Clearfield County; Thomas Hutchinson, Armstrong County; and Earl B. Walter, Butler County.

Former sheriff Samuel M. Glass of Montgomery County was elected to a three-year term as a trustee.

The conference ends Saturday.

Attackers Claim Gains

Tunisians Hold Positions Despite French Assaults

TUNIS (AP)—A dwindling Gharbi stubbornly held to positions in the heart of the city of Bizerte Friday night under the hammering of French bombs and artillery, Tunisian officials said.

The French reported their forces, attacking by land, sea and air, seized high ground dominating the Tunisian officials said three French warships sent landing barges through the canal into Bizerte Bay under a rain of fire and canal leading from the Mediterranean to their naval base three miles inland from the embattled city. The city of 45,000 stands astride the canal.

landed troops, who then linked up with the attacking forces.

One barge was reported set afire by Tunisian machine guns as it nosed through the narrow canal.

Tunisia's government radio said at least 150 Tunisians were killed in the assault. It claimed 100 "Death Volunteers" moving to occupy a portion of the French-held Sahara 500 miles to the south died when attacked by French planes dropping napalm bombs — the dreaded fire bombs made of jellied gasoline.

Deny Using Bombs

The French, who have reported just 5 dead and 30 wounded since fighting broke out Tuesday, denied using napalm bombs anywhere in Tunisia.

Shortly before the Bizerte assault Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba appealed to his people to "fight to the death." Calling for foreign volunteers to join the fight, he ordered his country to arm and directed formation of guerrilla units. He ordered Tunisian U.N. troops home from the Congo.

Keystone's Chief Justice Resigns

HARRISBURG (AP)—Charles Alvin Jones, chief justice of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, resigned Friday.

He tendered his resignation to be effective July 31.

Gov. Lawrence accepted it with reluctance, hailing Jones' nearly 16 years of dedicated service.

Jones, who will be 74 on Aug. 27, had announced last March his intention to resign because of failing eyesight. He always wore a green eyeshade while in court.

Lawrence said he would name a new justice next week. The appointment, for a six-month term, will be subject to Senate confirmation.

Lawrence can be expected to name a Democrat to maintain the party's 5-2 margin on the court.

An election will be held in November to choose a justice for a full 21-year term in the $30,000-a-year post. Republican and Democratic candidates must be certified by Sept. 25.

Regardless of the election, John Cromwell Bell Jr., 68, a Republican, will become chief justice under rules of seniority.

Bell, a former lieutenant governor who once served as governor, will be sworn in informally July 31 and then be formally inducted before the full court on Sept. 13.

The democrats prominently mentioned as possibilities for the interim appointment to fill the court vacancy are Atty. Gen. Anne K. Alpern and Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis.

Jones was elected to the court in November 1944 after serving five years as a judge in the United States Third Circuit Court of Appeals.

He ran unsuccessfully for Governor in 1938.

Praising Jones for his years of service, Lawrence said: "Few men in this state or nation can rightly have a higher sense of achievement and public service than can you."

"The commonwealth, its citizens and the law of the land all are indebted to you for your many years of steadfast devotion to their betterment and their advancement."

Jones was born in Newport, Perry County, in 1887. He received his law degree from the Dickinson College Law School at Carlisle in 1910.

U.S. Set To Airlift 20,000 From Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States government announced Friday night it will sponsor a free airlift for more than 20,000 Cubans wanting to come to the United States.

The State Department said that, starting Saturday, Pan American World Airways will step up its flight to Havana tenfold in order to bring in the waiting Cubans at the rate of 1,000 a day.

The U.S. government expects to pay some $350,000 out of its emergency foreign aid fund to finance the mass airlift. The White House has approved the action.

The State Department said the step is being taken because the Cubans have been unable to pay in American dollars for the flight to Miami. Instead, they have had only Cuban pesos unusable to pay their fares on such flights.

State Department press officer Lincoln White, who issued the announcement, said no assurance has been received from Prime Minister Fidel Castro as to whether he will let the Cubans out. Nor has the U.S. government told Castro about the plan, he said.

Eichmann Says He Lacked Courage To Resist Orders

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann confessed to his Israeli judges Friday that he lacked the courage to resist Nazi orders in the campaign to exterminate Europe's Jews. He said he now has to face his own conscience.

"From a human point of view, I have a reckoning with myself," the former Gestapo officer declared. "I lacked civil courage, just as most of those in uniform lacked it."

Testifying for the 24th day, Eichmann stood in the prisoner's dock surrounded by bulletproof glass while the judges who will decide whether he hangs questioned him closely about his personal philosophy and his role in the Nazi slaughter of six million Jews. Eichmann has steadfastly maintained his job was organizing deportations, and had nothing to do with the "death camps" at the end of the line.

Friday's questions came from Judges Benjamin Halevy and Zhak Raveh. Presiding Judge Moshe Landau will question Eichmann Monday, but the temper of the court was obvious in the questioning from the other two.

Today's Lesson: Story of Martha And Mary

By N. SPEER JONES

ALL the incidents in this lesson take place in the town of Bethany on the other side of the Mount of Olives from Jerusalem. In a home in that town dwell two sisters and a brother named Mary, Martha and Lazarus—who, incidentally, is not to be confused with the beggar Lazarus mentioned in Luke 16:20.

The friendship, devotion and hospitality of these three must have been pronounced — and deeply appreciated by Jesus. He apparently stayed with them always when He was in the vicinity and it was this home that He chose to make His headquarters during His difficult last days on earth.

These two sisters are two distinct personalities.

Notice first that Martha is the more dominant. It is Martha who invites Christ to their home (Luke 10:38); Martha who takes upon herself the responsibility of hospitality, being "cumbered about much serving" at home (Luke 10:40); and serving at Jesus' last supper (John 12:2). It is Martha who goes forth to meet Jesus when He comes after Lazarus' death; Martha who warns Christ that viewing Lazarus after his burial might be unpleasant.

Mary is the quieter, the more submissive, the more emotionally motivated. Yet she is not without her own type of independence.

Witness her spontaneous anointing of Christ with the spikenard at His last supper. Scholars tell us that when a king of the time feasted, his head was anointed with oil which perfumed the room with an exquisite fragrance. They also tell us that this spikenard is estimated to have been worth the wages of 500 days. Thus we see in what a magnificent way Mary honored her Lord. Whom she must have realized was soon to die.

It seems probable that Martha was the older of the two sisters. She is accustomed to taking charge and bearing responsibility.

I cannot agree with the critics who feel that Christ rebuked Martha for her concern about His comfort (Luke 10:41) rather than sitting rapt at His feet as did Mary. When Martha, distraught by the burdens of hospitality, asks Jesus to tell Mary to help her, His replies most gently and appreciatively. It seems to me, repeating her name in affection, despite her petulant tone. The wording of verse 40 would almost indicate that this was not the first time Mary had left Martha with extra responsibility.

Yet Christ does point out to Martha that there are times when it is wise to follow Mary's course—to slack up on the usually necessary responsibilities in order to appreciate the really important things in life when they appear.

When Christ says, "but one thing is needful," He means that of all the things Martha was trying so hard to do, only one was essential this time—getting closer to God by listening to His Son.

In fact, these five short verses from Luke point out not only a definite characterization of two different personalities; they also show two opposing tendencies in the make-up of most of us. The inspiring part of this passage is the understanding that Christ feels for this conflict, in which we must all strike some sort of balance.

Rev. Mohn Leaves

ELDER Alex Bensinger will take over for Rev. Mohn of the Presbyterian Church of the Mountain, Delaware Water Gap. Rev. Mohn was unexpectedly called away, and Bensinger will lead the services in the interim.

Mary and Martha

When Christ visits Mary and Martha, Martha complains that Mary has left her with all the chores while she listens to Him. Christ replies that the word of God is more important. —Luke 10:38-42.

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Lazarus, their brother, dies. When Christ comes, Martha runs to meet Him, feeling that if He had been there Lazarus would have been saved. Jesus promises, "Thy brother shall rise again." —John 11:20-23.

At Lazarus' grave, Jesus orders the stone sealing the cave taken away. Before the onlookers He thanks God for hearing His prayers and commands, "Lazarus, come forth." And Lazarus arose. —John 11:39-44.

At Christ's Last Supper, Mary brings out her treasure, a precious ointment, with which she anoints her King's feet. Judas criticizes it as wasteful and Christ rebukes him. —John 12:3-8. GOLDEN TEXT—John 11:27.

Area Witnesses To Meet In Aug.

JEHOVAH'S Witnesses residing in this vicinity are directing their attention to the coming circuit assembly to be held in the Agricultural Building in Allentown, August 4-6.

Advance preparation had been made by department heads prior to the New York assembly and many have had first-hand experience there to co-ordinate and facilitate operation of this assembly.

Stephen Bortlik, presiding minister of the local congregation, stated that the theme of the gathering will be "Walk in the Name of Jehovah Forever;" a thought taken from the prophecy of Micah, verse 5 of the 4th chapter.

Bortlik said, "This theme is a timely one when we consider that many have made materialism their god, and also defy persons or things having to do with politics, science and the like. Today many prominent men want to control human affairs, but few, indeed, desire God's Kingdom to become fully operative on the earth."

He continued, "When one learns to walk with the true God, his future becomes full of hope and his life is devoted thereafter to the betterment of all."

The climax of the assembly will be the public Bible discourse, "The Twentieth Century in Bible Prophecy," to be delivered at 3 p. m., Sunday, August 6.

PROTESTANT SCHOOLS

NEW YORK (AP)—Protestant in the United States operate 3,350 elementary schools, with 11,829 teachers and 295,423 pupils. Biggest Protestant school systems are those operated by Seventh-day Adventists and the Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod.

ALTAR flowers and bulletins at St. John's Lutheran Church on the seventh Sunday after Trinity, were donated by Mr. and Mrs. Russell Bond and family in memory of Mrs. Bond's father, Otto Fox.

Mr. and Mrs. Byron Lichtenwalder and son, Craig, of Vestal, New York, are spending a week with Mrs. Lichtenwalder's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Fraley.

Ushers listed to serve at St. John's Lutheran Church on July 30 are James Possinger and Wayne Bond. The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated there on that date. Linda Oltmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Oltmann, will celebrate her eighth birthday on July 27.

The Rev. Robert Zuch, pastor of the Hamilton Lutheran parish, will celebrate his birthday on July 28.

Evangelistic Services For Effort Methodists

REVEREND and Mrs. Joseph Brookshire will conduct evangelistic services in the Effort Methodist Church beginning Sunday, July 23, through Thursday night, July 27. The services will start promptly at 7:30 p. m.

Reverend Brookshire will preach at the regular morning worship in the Effort Church on Sunday, July 23, at 11 a. m.

The Brookshires are not new to the Pocono area, having appeared at the Wesley Chapel Methodist Church last summer for a series of evangelistic meetings. As a team they are also noted for their instrumental and vocal numbers. Mrs. Brookshire is an excellent pianist and vocalist, having traveled in many sections of the United States spreading the gospel messages through the medium of music.

The public is invited to join in sharing the gospel message with the Brookshires during their five day crusade at Effort.

Bible School Opens Monday

MENNONITE Vacation Bible School will be held in the tent on the firemen's lot on Day St., East Stroudsburg, starting at 9 a. m. Monday and continuing for two weeks.

Classes will be provided for four-to-14 year olds. Transportation will be furnished for those not within walking distance.

ALCOHOL STUDY SET

NEW YORK (AP)—A church-wide study on the problem of alcoholism is scheduled for the coming year by the Methodist Church. The textbook for it is a new book, "Stumbling Block: A Study of Alcohol and Christian Responsibility," by Dr. Douglas Jackson, a professor of sociology at Perkins Theological School, Dallas, Tex.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Swing me, Mommy, she says. Swing me high! All the way up to the clouds, if you can!

I smile and say, "I can't; not that high, darling." But still I push the swing and watch her soar skyward. Then she comes back to earth again, giggling, "That time I nearly touched the clouds, didn't I, Mommy?" I laugh and say, "Well—nearly, perhaps."

I look down at her, and for a desperately tender moment I wish that I could always keep that smile on her face, this laugh in her voice, the happy conviction that she nearly touched the clouds. Like all parents, I yearn to spare my child sorrow, anger, hurt of every kind. I yearn to keep from her the knowledge that none of us ever quite touch the clouds. And I know I can't.

So I am thankful—more thankful than ever—for the Church, and the lessons it is teaching her. None of us can give our children perpetual sanctuary. But all of us can help them find Faith.

On Sept. 3, the newly amended federal wage-hour law goes into effect. Great numbers of workers in service industries—of which retailing is the principal one—will be covered who hitherto have been exempt.

Some of the problems connected with this have been detailed by the American Retail Federation. It has organized task force groups to study them, to make recommendations, and to confer with the law's administrator and his staff.

Four fields which present unanswered or only partially-answered questions are listed: These include general problems of coverage, including definitions of enterprise, establishment, etc.; problems arising out of incentive pay methods, such as commissions and quota bonus plans; problems of employment of students and learners at rates less than the statutory minimum, and, finally, definitions of exempt executive and administrative employees.

These are headaches which retail employers must deal with. More than that, they indicate the difficulties and the problems which inevitably arise when government moves further and further to control, regulate, and generally boss our businesses and industries.

Often years go by before important questions are finally settled. And, as a rule, the costs of operating a business rise, at the ultimate expense of the customer.

Let's hope the expanded law won't result in a new wave of price inflation. We shall see.

The Many Facets Of Newburgh

The clash over welfare policies in Newburgh, New York, involves more than relief administration alone. It involves, for example, the problems of migrant agricultural workers, about which Congress is being asked to legislate.

It involves unemployment, which falls most heavily on the unskilled, Negro or white. It involves differences of mores which change slowly.

While welfare costs in Newburgh have grown to where they take one-third of that city's budget (or more than police and fire protection together), one-half of that third is provided by the state and federal governments.

The key question is whether the 13-point program which the city council and city manager have put into effect violates New York State law and federal standards under the Social Security Act.

The city attorney contends it does not. The New York State Welfare Department believes some if not most of the restrictions are illegal.

The state might precipitate a test by stopping its contributions or by applying for a court injunction. But it has not done so. Instead, state investigators are asking for data on specific cases. This is much more judicious and appropriate.

The question then will be whether in carrying out a particular regulation the city works a hardship or injustice on a relief applicant according to state and federal standards.

One new rule, for example, is that no person shall draw relief for more than three months in a year unless incapacitated. Will this be construed harshly or liberally?

Another is that no relief family shall draw a larger monthly sum than the lowest paid worker on the city payroll. Are there circumstances in which this would be unfair?

There are too many facets to this subject for a snap judgment that the city of Newburgh is either wholly right or wholly wrong.

There is a widespread feeling that it is moving in a needed direction. Case-by-case examination will help prevent its moving too far.

George Sokolsky Says . . .

Secret Arrangements

On May 26, 1945, Harry Hopkins met Stalin in the Kremlin to discuss many very important subjects.

For some time prior to this meeting, President Harry Truman and Prime Minister Winston Churchill had been maneuvering to get Stalin to agree to some kind of a Summit meeting but Stalin had avoided a decision. Finally Hopkins was sent to the Kremlin to make arrangements for what eventually became the Potsdam Conference.

Hopkins explained that President Truman asked him, Hopkins, to go to Moscow because: " . . . he thought the Marshal would be interested in a brief description of President Roosevelt's state of mind just prior to his death. He said that on the way back from Yalta it had been clear to him that President Roosevelt was very tired and that his energy was on the decline."

Stalin pushed aside this emotional description by saying that Lenin also died of a cerebral hemorrhage following a stroke. Stalin apparently wanted to get on with the business at hand, he knowing that Hopkins, himself, was a very sick man who had not much longer to live and had not made this long trip to discuss the nature of Roosevelt's death.

However, Hopkins persisted and reminded Stalin how much faith Roosevelt had in Soviet Russia and that Roosevelt was responsible for initiating the program of aid to Soviet Russia.

Hopkins then went on to explain that since Roosevelt's death, the American people were not as enthusiastic about Soviet Russia as they had been. Hopkins said:

"Two months ago there had been overwhelming sympathy among the American people for the Soviet people for the Soviet Union and complete support for President Roosevelt's policies which the Marshal knew so well.

"This sympathy and support came primarily because of the brilliant achievements of the Soviet Union in the war and partly from President Roosevelt's leadership and the magnificent way in which our two countries had worked together to bring about the defeat of Germany."

"The American people at that time hoped and confidently believed that the two countries could work together in peace as well as they had in war."

Hopkins made the point that American opinion was turning anti-Russian:

"He said he wished to assure the Marshal with all the earnestness at his command that this body of American public opinion who had been the constant support of the Roosevelt policies were seriously disturbed about their relations with Russia. In fact, in the last six weeks deterioration of public opinion had been so serious as to affect adversely the relations between our two countries."

Hopkins then explained the nature of Roosevelt's foreign policy:

" . . . the cardinal basis of President Roosevelt's policy which the American people had fully supported had been the concept that the interests of the United States were world wide and not confined to North and South America and the Pacific Ocean and it was this concept that had led to the many conferences concerning the peace of the world which President Roosevelt had had with Marshal Stalin."

"President Roosevelt had believed that the Soviet Union had likewise world-wide interests and that the two countries could work out together any political or economic considerations at issue between them."

We come here to the core of the problem facing us today. Apparently it was Roosevelt's plan to have a two-nation control of the world. The United States and Soviet Russia would be the masters and all other countries would fit into place.

Stalin made no comment on this particular subject. Instead Stalin tried to get the discussion off on a tangent, namely that the Conservative Party in Great Britain was against Soviet Russia and that therefore Soviet Russia had to have a government in Poland that was friendly to Soviet Russia.

Harry Hopkins assured Stalin that " . . . the United States would desire a Poland friendly to the Soviet Union and in fact desired to see friendly countries all along the Soviet borders."

Good-bye, Poland! Good-bye, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, and all the so-called liberated countries!

At any rate, Stalin got off on a side-line, discussing whether Hitler was alive or dead.

So here we have it, the hidden fact, the suppressed item that led to Potsdam. We were assured that there were no secret treaties at Potsdam and there probably were no treaties—but secret arrangements in the volumes now available.

By the way, Smith doesn't like lack-luster columns about circuses. Neither do we, especially if they are written by someone who isn't enjoying a busman's holiday.

When F. Scott Fitzgerald's daughter Frances was 11 years old, the famous novelist (author of "The Great Gatsby" and "This Side of Paradise") sent her this capsule of advice while she was in summer camp:

"Darling Scotty: It's okay to worry about these four things: courage, cleanliness, efficiency, and horsemanship. But don't you ever worry your pretty little head about popular opinion, dolls, the past, the future, growing up, parents, boys, disappointments — or failure unless it comes through your own fault."

Out of the South in 1941 came a sports-indoctrinated gentleman who later became the dean of White House correspondents.

This native of Savannah, Ga., started as a sports writer on the Atlanta Georgia-American and followed up in his home state as a staffer on the Sunday Magazine section of the Atlanta Journal. Later he became managing editor of the Athens (Ga.) Daily Times.

The Allen-Scott Report

Panama Demands Aid

By Robert S. Allen and Paul Scott

Washington — The small but crucially strategic Republic of Panama is on the verge of again exploding in a grave crisis.

President Robert Chiari, vigorously anti-Castro and friendly to this country, is threatening to throw up his job in protest against what he considers the inexplicable failure to obtain long-sought economic aid.

Particularly outraging Chiari is his inability to get $20 million in loans or grants for low-cost housing.

He has been trying to get these funds since taking office last fall. The house plan was first submitted to the Eisenhower Administration, but got nowhere. After President Kennedy took over, the proposal was again presented — but has continued to gather dust despite his oft-touted Alliance for Progress in Latin America.

Chiari's backstage threat to resign comes at an especially awkward time for two reasons: (1) The special meeting of the Inter-American Economic & Social Council, slated to convene in Uruguay on Aug. 5, is to be the stage for strenuous U.S. efforts in behalf of the Alliance for Progress.

Administration sources had indicated the President would attend this parley, although that now seems unlikely due to the ominous Berlin crisis and the difficulties being encountered putting the highly controversial $1.8 billion aid bill through Congress.

(2) The strong probability that Chiari's resignation might lead to a renewal of the tumult and violence that caused a serious Panama crisis a few years ago. This time a pro-Castro seizure might be attempted. An active Castro underground is known to exist in Panama, and Chiari has been determinedly combating it.

Under Panamanian law, he would be succeeded by either the First Vice President, Dr. Sergio Gonzales Ruiz, who is also Minister of Health in Chiari's cabinet, or by the Second Vice President, Colonel Jose Dominador Bazan, head of Colon, second largest city in that country.

Neither is deemed strong enough to preserve order and avert a possible government overthrow.

Strange Mystery — Congressional leaders alarmed by this explosive situation are baffled by the Administration's laxity in doing anything about it.

Notwithstanding the President's frequency-avowed concern about improving Latin American relations, particularly through the $500 million-funded Alliance for Progress, Chiari's repeated pleas for help have fallen on deaf ears.

Representative Daniel Flood, D-Pa., who has long been warning about a "Panama danger zone," arranged for Ambassador Augusto Arango to confer with President Kennedy on much-needed economic aid. The President assured him he would personally look into the matter.

But months have passed and nothing has happened.

So Chiari, in despair, has finally sent word to both the White House and State Department that he has decided to retire to private life unless the U.S. acts promptly on his long-pending economic aid requests.

It remains to be seen what the Administration will do—if anything.

Fidel Castro has boasted that a pro-Castro regime will be in power in Panama "by 1962." The beefy Cuban dictator is also known to be planning to send a delegation to the Inter-American economic conference in Uruguay. There have been hints he may decide to appear there himself, especially if President Kennedy attends.

That's one reason Secretary Rusk is advising against it.

The State Department chief contends that regardless of whether Kennedy and Castro actually meet, the latter would use the occasion for characteristically turbulent propaganda demonstrations.

The FBI has definitely established that one of the 10-member prisoner delegation Castro sent to the U.S. to negotiate a tractor exchange is a Communist agent.

Also that only two of these emissaries were actually selected by the 1,200 captives. All the others were handpicked by Castro, despite his claim the entire group was chosen by the prisoners.

More Grim Pressure — Russia is reinforcing its already-large forces in East Germany. More than 15,000 Soviet troops have arrived there in the last few weeks. They are being used to bring the 20 Soviet divisions up to full combat strength. That is now estimated at around 90 per cent for most of the divisions.

The Kremlin may declare all bus and underground transportation in Moscow free. This dramatic announcement is reportedly slated for the Communist Party Congress in Moscow in October. According to authoritative Iron Curtain sources, if the free transportation scheme works in Moscow, it will be extended to other Russian cities.

Inside You And Yours

Patients On Ice

By Burton H. Fern, M.D.

Your next hospital bed may turn out to be a human refrigerator. Throughout the country, lives are being saved by putting patients on ice.

The whole idea started with Friend Bear, who sleeps all winter cooled by icy temperatures.

His breathing almost stops. He doesn't have to breathe. His chemical machinery slows down and he can get along without much oxygen.

Years back doctors had to clamp off large blood vessels to tackle major heart surgery, but without their oxygen-rich blood supply, brain cells weaken and wither in a few minutes.

New hope was triggered by news about ice-chilled soldiers who were able to live for hours with almost no blood flowing to the brain. Doctors began packing volunteers in ice to see what would happen.

Special drugs had to be found to prevent shivering and other reactions which multiply the need for oxygen, or the cold treatment would backfire!

Research soon proved that a cool brain won't spoil even when there isn't much oxygen around. Brain cells slow down just like the wintering grizzly bear.

By this time, heart surgeons had already found new inventions that eliminated the need for Jack Frost. But doctors soon located other markets for human refrigeration.

Shock, drowning and heart-stopping all devour oxygen away from the brain. The shock victim has low blood pressure; his heart can't pump uphill.

Water-filled lungs can't absorb much air, even with the best artificial respiration. And when the heart stops, oxygen-rich blood doesn't flow. Also, chilling ice can often slow or stop dangerous internal bleeding.

Bloodless, pain-free amputations can be done by putting the arm or leg on ice. The cold slows bleeding and numbs pain.

The whole future of brain surgery may lie in some hidden refrigerator. Who Knows Doctors have only begun to crack the ice!

Mr. Fern's mailbox is wide open for letters from readers. While he cannot undertake to answer individual letters, he will use readers' questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Fern in care of this newspaper.

DEAR MR. EDITOR: Understanding Is Key

Dear Mr. Editor:

I have not been following your articles on "juvenile delinquency" too closely, but no one really has to follow them to know what is happening to teenagers today. I dare not say teenage boys, as it is definitely not just that sex with which this problem of "JD" arises.

I am a 16 year old girl who has many friends, which is only natural. I want to keep my name so I will be able to expect respect from other people; therefore, I try to be careful in choosing my friends.

I do not want to mingle or become too well acquainted with people in the "wrong crowd" — as these people have so been labeled. But in thinking it over very seriously, I've found that this is not the answer.

If a person does one bad thing and is condemned, he will be forced out of the crowd of people with which he was once associated; he will be an outcast with no one to turn to when a friend is so badly needed.

He has no choice but to continue doing these bad or malicious things because it will make no difference — he's already an outcast. This way he will at least get recognition from some people, but the wrong kind.

To anyone, yes anyone, it's a mighty big bite to chew to try to take a step the right way in "righting your wrong" — to admit you were wrong.

This is the time when a friend is needed; this is the time at which understanding is the key to the door which is labeled "good" instead of "bad".

No one in this vast world is perfect. Why then must we condemn so heartily those who have started on the wrong track? Understanding is the key to recovery.

Friends, some of each sex, are a big drop of water in the bucket when it comes to solving this problem of juvenile delinquency.

No one can make amends easily when working alone. It is, however, not just friends such as classmates, who can be helpful — a mutual child-parent relationship is more than, as the saying goes, a grain of salt. In my estimation, it is the salt and the container combined with nothing excluded.

I may sound like everyone else now by preaching that the parents are to blame. This is NOT what I'm doing. I do not feel that the parents are at fault 100 per cent of the time. Why?

What about those children who live in a terrible environment and make something of themselves? They could have just as easily followed their parents' footsteps; but they didn't.

Each individual has an initiative for something. You don't inherit your parents' "brains", their likes, their dislikes, or their feelings. Each person develops his own. This part of your make-up, part of your personality, part of what makes you what you are.

When someone starts making or living your life for you, rebellion steps in. This feeling of resentment starts dominating you. You feel that you know what's best for you — not someone else.

Therefore, I believe that understanding, devoted, and helpful parents are needed not continuously dominating.

Teenagers have to realize, however, that most parents are concerned and are trying to be helpful — not dominating.

In concluding I would like to repeat again what I've said throughout this long dissertation. UNDERSTANDING IS THE KEY TO RECOVERY.

Remember this when you read about the rise of juvenile delinquency. Does this have to be? That is for you to answer.

Should We Prepare For War?

DO you think we should mobilize and prepare for war? Asked in front of the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Donna Straka, Chipperfield Drive, Stroudsburg—"I think we should have enough armaments ready in case anything should happen. We should increase the draft rather than mobilize the National Guard at this time. A state of emergency would be drastic at this stage.

Nicholas Davis, Irvington, N.J.—"Kennedy has already started an increased draft. If you're going to shake a big stick, you should have the power to shake it. There's no use talking if you have nothing to back it up. It would disrupt the economy by mobilizing the National Guard and pulling these men from their jobs.

Leon Keller, Effort—"It would probably be better to go away with Khrushchev like we did with Mussolini and Hitler. This is the time for a showdown if Khrushchev starts anything. We should eradicate them.

Mrs. Eugene DePaul, Pittsburgh, Pa.—"I don't think we should let Russia think we are taking a back seat. We should prepare and not be taken by surprise. However, first we should do everything to prevent war.

Monroe Top State Tourist Aid Seeker

MONROE County with the Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau submitting the required budgetary statements, is the largest single fund seeker from Pennsylvania's $200,000 Tourist Promotion Matching Fund program. The area vacation group is seeking $40,000, the maximum that would be available under the state program.

Other agencies applying for matching fund grants and the counties they represent are:

Pennsylvania Dutch Tourist Bureau, Lancaster, $27,800; Lebanon, $6,000; Seneca Highlands Assn., McKean, $5,451; Gettysburg Travel Council, Adams, $5,190; Columbia County Historical Society, Columbia, $3,348; Tourist Division of Greater Erie C. of C. of Erie, $20,281; Greater Williamsport C. of C. of Lycoming, $7,090; Elk County Recreation Council, Elk, $3,700; Bucktail State Park Assn., Cameron-Clinton, $3,000; Lake Wallenpaupack Assn., Pike, $7,719; and Hawley-Lake Wallenpaupack C. of C. Wayne, $5,247.

Applications are "in the mail or in the works" the state Vacation and Travel Development Bureau said. These are expected from other counties including Cumberland, York and Lackawanna.

The matching fund program is rapidly making the Commonwealth the focal point of the nation's tourism industry, Harold A. Swenson, director of the Vacation and Travel Development Bureau reported.

Under provisions of the bill the Department of Commerce will match funds raised by participating travel agencies up to 10 cents per capita of county population or $3 per rental room within the county. No county will be eligible for less than $1,000 or more than 20 per cent ($40,000) of the total appropriation. The total state grant will never be in excess of what the county agency raises.

The daily activities run from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Barrett 'Y' Plans 2nd Home Camp

THE FIRST two-week session of the Barrett YMCA "Study-at-Home-Camp" ended yesterday with the parents joining the campers at Promised Land for a picnic.

During the session, the campers visited the fish hatchery and competed in a fishing contest. The campers ranged in ages from 6 to 11. Highlight of the outing was an overnight camping trip at Snow Hill State Park.

Registration for the second camping session can be made by contacting the Barrett Y at LY 5-2730. This program will begin Monday and will last for two weeks.

Contests Planned

The counselors, under the direction of Robert Wilson, have planned a watermelon hunt, an archery contest and an overnight campout as part of this second session.

Also scheduled are games and handicrafts and swimming at Seguin's Lake, Cresco. Safety measures are provided at this lake.

The daily activities run from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Bankers To Set Up Classes

THE POCONO Chapter of the American Institute of Banking heard Leslie Simmers, of Wilkes-Barre, associate councilman of District Three, AIB at a meeting Thursday night at the East Stroudsburg branch offices of the Monroe Security Bank & Trust Co.

The meeting brought together officers, board of governors and committee chairmen of the chapter. John Vaneria, president of the Pocono Chapter, presided.

Plans for the Fall night classes were discussed. Approved was the class in Principles of Banking which will be conducted by Fred Walters, assistant treasurer of Monroe Security.

Classes will start on Wednesday, Sept. 6 at the East Stroudsburg Joint Area High School. The course will cover 14 weeks with each session lasting three hours.

In other business, the group's entertainment committee said plans are being made for the chapter's annual kickoff dinner. The place and date are to be announced later, it reported.

Good Deed Backfires

A WOULD-BE Good Samaritan wound up in Monroe County General Hospital last night, but only briefly.

H. W. Tebbis, Stroud Township police chief, identified him as George Harrison, 46, Tobyhanna, a laborer for the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

Harrison was traveling north on Route 611 about 9 p.m. yesterday when a car in front of him, driven by Marilyn Costanzo of Mt. Pocono, pulled to the side of the road when her brakes caught on fire.

Harrison volunteered to help and someone handed him a fire extinguisher. As he knelt to aim the extinguisher at the brake linings, he became unconscious, presumably from the smoke or the contents of the extinguisher.

He was taken to the hospital, treated with oxygen and discharged. Damage to the car was slight.

Local Troops Take Part In Live Firing Test

(Special To Daily Record)
GUARDSMEN of Company A, 28th Infantry Division conducted their first live firing test yesterday while on training at Camp A. P. Hill, Va.

The group, which began its two-week training period on Monday, had to depart earlier than usual from the base camp for the training site. This area is 25 miles away from the tent city and the company had to leave an hour earlier.

Here is how the day went: At 3:30 Sgt. James Brimer, the charge of quarters, awakened the Mess Steward and the cooks who were to go on duty today. At 4:30 a.m. SP-4 Elwood Dean and SP-4 George DeRenzis were awakened to go on KP. SP-4 Lloyd Schuler and Pfc Ronald Stopp, who were placed on light duty yesterday, were also detailed to work on KP. The company was awakened at firing test that started at 7 a.m.

Staff Sgt. Charles Chase was designated headcount NCO for the Mess Hall and Pfc Grant Metzgar was assigned to the Battle Group Sergeant Major.

Due to the fact that two men were placed on light duty two re-inforcements, SP-4 Harry Himes and SP-4 Terry Hoskins, were placed in their training slots for the day. Lt. Broadhead was assigned by Capt. Gerald E. Shanley to be in charge of Range 15 where the rifle squads of M-Sgt. Donald Klingel who went through the live firing exercises. Lt. John Yancheck with the weapons squads of the company was assigned to support the rifle squads. Lt. Ronald Cosko with Sgt. Larry Butz in charge were assigned to a company training area to go through field exercises for their heavy weapons in the attack and defense. Pfc Reynold Shoemaker was added to the Motor Section and was given the assignment to drive Lt. Col. Nee, the Battle Group Executive Officer, until the end of camp. The Mess Section was inspected by the Division Food Adviser, CWO J. Moyer. Through the efforts of the entire mess section, M-Sgt. Robert Schoonover, and the umpires who had yesterday morning off and were willing to give their time in assisting to set up the kitchen properly proved that our organization was well out in front of any division as was quoted on the bottom of the division report "A well organized mess section." Added features in and around mess tent reflect interest of the Mess Steward." Sfc Jack Marvin deserves much credit for this fine report.

Reconnoiter Area
All the First Sergeants of the Battle Group went out to the proposed bivouac area to reconnoiter the area so that each First Sergeant could relay this information to his Company Commander. This was the fourth day and four nights that the company will spend on bivouac. Today the company received two excellent and one satisfactory rating. The satisfactory rating was due to low strength in the assigned officer personnel. The excellent ratings were for transportation and for military discipline. Capt. Shanley and M-Sgt's Marek and Schoonover went out to the proposed bivouac area to make an overlay as to where the company CP would be, the platoons located and the placement of the other sections. At 4:45 the troops were fed the evening meal. It consisted of braised veal patties, parsley buttered potatoes, corn on the cob, tossed salad, bread butter, ice cream, lemonade, coffee or milk. The meal served to the me. at dinner time was just as good. It consisted of beef pot roast, browned potatoes, buttered asparagus, buttered beans, banana gelatin salad on lettuce, bread, butter, iced tea and milk.

Will Be In Charge
Sfc Frederic Nidlund and Sgt. Richard Reimel will be in charge of the aggressors which consists of Sgt. Richard Smith, SP-4 Harold Frailey, SP-4 Norman Rinker, and Pfc Howard Overbeck. Fire team number two consists of Sgt.

Howard Blakeslee, SP-4 Dominio DeRea, Pfc Glenn Overbeck, Pfc Thomas Jones, and Pfc Edward Hull. There are two light machine gun crews.

SP-4 Jerry Peechatka, SP-4 David Congleton, and Pfc Gary Schlegel are on crew number one. Crew number two is SP-4 Sherwood Miller, Pfc John Hitzel, and Gilbert Overbeck. The ammunition detail team one is SP-4 Norman Berger, Pfc Robert Finelli, and Pfc Robert Lillo. Team number two is SP-5 William Rhule, SP-4 Anthony Boecano, and Pfc Russell Marsh. These teams were used against the squads in the attack Wednesday night.

SP-4 Richard Hilbert, one of the Unit truck drivers had an interesting job to perform yesterday. He was hauling a truck loaded with live ammunition, which included grenades, half pound plugs, TNT, smoke grenades, and 30 cal. ammunition for the men who were training — both as aggressors and firing live ammunition. M-Sgt. Donald Klingel had a comparatively

Just Between Us —

—By Bobby Westbrook

Some of the air-conditioning in which I shivered last week would have come in handy yesterday. Nearest thing to air-conditioning was the Stroudsburg Playgrounds where a breeze was blowing, and just looking at the kids splashing in the pool made you feel cooler.

There wasn't plenty of shade in the Doll Parade ring, however, and if there had been any wax dolls they would have melted for sure. As it was, only the judges and playground officials melted. Most of the kids were still damp from the pool.

There was a time when the playgrounds in both towns were familiar territory to me: waiting for the kids to finish their swimming lessons, watching Little League games, catching up with Sunday.

Bartonsville 4-H Make, Eat Refreshments

Bartonsville—The Bartonsville 4-H Club meeting each week at the home of Mrs. Donald Hartman have prepared a variety of refreshments — and eaten them with relish.

Brownies, cinnamon shake and sandwiches, waffles, salad and a milk bar were on their schedule.

Their games have included "Fish, Beast and Bird" and their song "My Hat Has Three Corners."

Active members include Donna Hartman, Sarah Jane Cyphers, Joanne Dunbar, Donna Hartman, Majorie and Judy Holdorf and Holly Price. Leaders are Mrs. Donald Hartman and Miss Margaret MacLaren.

Womens Guild Meeting At Salem Church

Gilbert — The Women's Guild of Salem United Church of Christ held its July meeting this week in the Guild Hall. Theme of the meeting was "The Mission of the Church in Service."

Mrs. Lydia Deibert assisted by Carrie Dunning, Kathryn Snyder and Elda Dunning conducted the study. Joanne Altemose was pianist.

A dishcloth shower was held for the Guild Hall. Attending were Mrs. Deibert, Marguerite Schultz, Elda Dunning, Stella Kreger, Kathryn Snyder, Carrie Dunning, Lillian Kreger, Jennie Burger, Emma Meltzer, Joanne Altemose and Elizabeth Shupp.

Here from California

Panther: Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rohrbacher enjoyed a two-week visit from their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Maxwell and baby Michael, of Hayward, California. Mr. Rohrbacher's sister, Mrs. Elva Perry, of Maitland, Florida, was also a recent guest.

During the Maxwell's stay, the Rohrbachers entertained 56 family members at a reunion at the legion home in Newfoundland.

Lehrs Entertain House Guests

Delaware Water Gap — Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lehr have been entertaining a number of guests recently. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Swift from Collingswood, N.J. and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bangert, Jr., with a sister, Alice Bangert, from Neptune, N. J. The group had attended graveside services in Stroudsburg, for Mrs. Frank Bangert who passed away at Burlington Masonic Home.

Other guests were Mrs. Gladys (Crystal) Mitchell and friend, Mrs. Ann Guthridge from St. Petersburg, who also called on old acquaintances in the Stroudsburg Mrs. Charles Ross (and son, Charles, Jr.) from New York, a niece of Mrs. Lehr, visited with the Lehrs and with the Phil Farbers a few days last week. Mr. and Mrs. Ross and son leave for Nassau, August 2, to make their home there.

Philathea Class

Philathea Class of the Stroudsburg Methodist Church will hold a covered dish luncheon at noon on Wednesday at the summer home of Rev. and Mrs. Roger Stimson, Crescent Lake.

Blueberry Upsidedown Cake Makes Cupcakes, Too

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

Have you ever made a blueberry upsidedown cake?

Once we tried this way of using the fresh cultivated berries, and found that the fruit with its cake topping turned out of the pan as well as the usual canned fruit used for this dessert, it became one of our annual summertime specialties.

This year, instead of making one big blueberry upsidedown cake, we prepared the dessert in cupcake form. These individual cakes are convenient because some of them may be eaten right away, others may be refrigerated and served a few days later. When we are able to save some of these cupcakes — not always possible — we always reheat them before serving.

When it comes to putting the fresh berries on family menus, we probably don't need to remind you that they are delicious on ready-to-eat crisp cereal. This way, our family likes to add brown instead of white sugar to the cereal and berries.

We also like to use the large cultivated berries in fruit cups and salads because in addition to adding their good flavor, they contribute a particularly handsome appearance. Sometimes we mix the berries with canned pineapple chunks and their syrup. Sometimes we use fresh pineapple rings (or the drained canned ones) and arrange them on salad greens with the blueberries; homemade mayonnaise and a sour cream dressing (real or ersatz) are delectable with this combination.

If your family dotes on pancakes, don't let the summer pass without adding some of the fresh blueberries to a batter. Serve these with crisp bacon or fried ham some Sunday morning when you have time to loiter over brunch.

Bluebottom Cupcakes
1 1/2 cups blueberries
6 tablespoons sugar
1 cup sifted flour
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
1/4 cup milk

Wash and drain blueberries; mix with 6 tablespoons sugar; divide equally into 8 buttered 6-ounce custard cups. Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cream shortening, 1/4 cup sugar and vanilla; beat in egg thoroughly. Stir in sifted dry ingredients alternately with milk; mix only until smooth. Spread batter over sugared blueberries. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 20 minutes or until cake tester inserted into center of cake topping comes out clean. Allow to stand on wire rack in cups until warm; turn out. If any of the blueberries remain in bottom of cups, remove with spatula and spread over other berries. Serve at once. Delicious served with vanilla ice cream or whipped cream. Makes 8 servings.

Flower Show In August By Pocono Garden Club

Tannersville—Final plans for the annual Pocono Garden Club flower show to be held on August 9 and 10, in the Tannersville fire house, were made at the July meeting of the club, with Mrs. Walter Sebring presiding.

"Beauty Around the Cuckoo" will be the keynote of the show. Members are urged to enter both the arrangements and specimen flower classes. The public is invited to visit the show.

On August 8, the committee in charge will set up and decorate for the show. Help is urgently needed and would be greatly appreciated. Anyone desiring to assist should come to the fire house after 9:30 a. m., prepared to work.

Flower show committee members are Mrs. Donald Hartman, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. Haviland Heller, Mrs. James N. Canfield Jr., Mrs. Frank Herting, Mrs. Charles Brader, Mrs. Clifford Steffens, Mrs. Richard Cross, Mrs. Floyd Hay, Miss Emma Dunbar, Miss Margaret MacLaren and Arthur E. Ifft.

Miss Margaret MacLaren spoke on "The Basic Points of Flower Arrangement," stressing materials, container, color contrast, height and rhythm. Charts were used to clarify the topic.

State Awards To VFW Aux. And District

Representatives of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Aux. of Thomas P. Lambert post attended the state convention in Pittsburgh last week and came home loaded with honors.

District 20 had the highest gain in membership, winning a prize of $20. A total of 17 awards were given in the district which includes Monroe, Pike, Northampton and Carbon counties.

Cash, plaques, date tabs and certificates were among the awards.

A civil defense award went to the local Auxiliary. Georgia Albertson is chairman of the local committee.

At the business meeting Margaret Smith from Kingston was elected president; Dorothy Zenzor, Norristown, senior vice president and Edna Tepsic, Pittsburgh, junior vice president.

Attending from Thomas P. Lambert Aux. were Margaret Goldy, president of District 20; Helen Shiffer, local president; Virginia Post, treasurer; and Regina Welker.

Strawberry Festival At Cherry Valley

It's "Strawberry Festival" Time on Saturday, starting at 6 p.m. at the Cherry Valley Methodist Church.

Sponsored by the Cherry Valley Methodist Youth Fellowship, they will serve hot dogs, hamburgers, barbecues, salads, drinks, strawberries, ice cream, and strawberry sundaes and shortcake.

Starting at 8 p.m. there will be free entertainment featuring the Pocono Male Chorus, the Cherry Valley Girls' Quartet, Frankie Zeller and his accordion, Elaine and Delores Wolff plus many others.

The public is invited.

Party Marks 10th Birthday

Wooddale — Duane Tallada, foster son of Mr. and Mrs. George Halterman, was ten years old on Wednesday. He is a third grade pupil in the Bushkill School.

A family dinner with birthday cake and ice cream celebrated the event. Other foster children: Janet Baird, Dorothy Lamb and Debbie Klinger joined in celebrating his birthday.

Duane's father, Charles Tallada, of South Stroudsburg, a veteran of World War II died nine and a half years ago of polio in the Veterans Hospital, Wilkes-Barre.

Eastern Star Picnic

The Monroe Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will hold a picnic for members and their families on Wednesday at the Summer residence of Ruth Shiffer. Members will bring a covered dish and table service.

Here for Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. Burt Saunders and their family, of Pittsburgh, will arrive this weekend for a visit with Mr. Saunders parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Ray Saunders, 765 Bryant St., Stroudsburg.

Kaiser Home Setting For Birthday Party

WHILE Valerie Kaiser was at a friend's home planning the wording of invitations to a belated party for her sixth birthday, which was that very day, her mother was preparing a surprise party and the little guests were arriving. Valerie returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaiser, to find assembled:

Paula Weary of Stroudsburg, Marilyn Hanson of Columbia, Robin and Eddie Matthews of Portland, Donna and Elsa DelCampo, Kathy Bishop, Jill Court, Roxanne and Gwendolyn Kaiser, Debbie Bridger, Scot and Viki Taylor, all of Water Gap.

Adults present were Mrs. Paul Weary, Mrs. Wm. Hanson, Mrs. Edward Matthews, Jr., Mrs. Rodney Taylor, Mrs. Wm. Kaiser, Mrs. Edward Matthews, Sr., Miss Kathy Meixell, and Miss Nellie Burd.

The lawn party became a house party when showers came; but did not change the enjoyment of the little guests as they had birthday cake, ice cream and candies and then departed each with an individual gift, and left Valerie and her brother and sister Bradley and Rebecca Kaiser, to enjoy the new wrist watch and many other gifts the six-year-old received.

Some cooks like to top baking powder biscuits (before baking) with grated cheddar cheese and sesame seeds.

July 26-27-28-29
FREE ADMISSION

The
Wyckoff
Shopper

Sometimes we think of Wyckoff's in terms of the big things we need—but right now our store has a large array of little things that would delight the youngest shopping for souvenirs of a Pocono vacation. Oddly enough, some of these things come from the other side of the world—like the little dolls (only a few inches high) in our gift department that are cutely dressed, have movable arms and legs, and eyes that open and close. For 25¢ these Italian imports are a "must" for every little girl who loves dolls. . . . Far more expensive, of course, are the rather large dolls from foreign lands dressed in their native costumes. These are elaborate, more expensive, and real collectors' items. . . . Inexpensive too, and of very fine quality when compared with many at higher price, are our figurines coming from Hungary. One, of a boy on skis, is 2.98, I believe; others are 5.98 and up. One of my favorites is the big, rather clumsy girl in bright pink dress with a pert hat and nosegay of flowers. She's so homely, she's adorable, and if the colors are a bit on the gaudy side it's okay—just part of the natural charm of this interesting bit of the potter's art.

Speaking of the potter's art, I must mention that the Pennsylvania Guild of Craftsman is returning to our East Stroudsburg college on Wednesday, July 26th, for a four day show. This is a big event for local residents, and would also be, I am sure, for all the visitors to this area, if they were aware that admission is free. There is much to see—as well as much to buy. Hand-made jewelry . . . tiles . . . furniture . . . fabrics . . . wood carving . . . lace making, etc., are always on view, and fastidious shoppers delight in purchasing something that is one-of-a-kind, and beautiful. Try to attend. You'll enjoy it, I'm sure. Who knows? You may even come away with a brand new hobby that will give you hours of pleasure.

Sometimes I envy those women who are just beginning their families, and purchasing all the items that are needed to equip a nursery. As is true of so many things, cribs are becoming lovelier each passing year, and if you doubt this, do see those on display in our Wyckoff baby department. Some are of white enamel, priced at 35.00, 39.98, and 42.00. One gorgeous thing in walnut and white is of Danish modern design, priced at 59.98. Light, bright waxed birch is only 35.00. All have double drop sides, four positions for the mattress, and numerous other convenient safety features.

The idea of the double drop sides is an excellent one, most mothers will agree, and certainly simplifies the problem of where to put the crib in a crowded room. When only one side drops, it is not always possible to place the crib attractively against a solid wall. This I know from experience. The various levels for the mattress are a great convenience too. When a very young baby is kept at the highest level, the mother's back-bending chores are eliminated.

Among our other items for baby are the new high chairs that can be used for a youth or utility chair. These, by Peterson, are 14.98, in a choice of grey or yellow. Folding high chairs of beige with chrome frame are 17.98, and wonderfully convenient for storage "between babies", or for packing when traveling.

Speaking of traveling suggests the need of car seats for baby in this day of family mobility. Some, to amuse the older child, have a steering wheel as well as a safety strap. Prices range from 2.50 to 6.98. Play pens are 14.98 and 19.98, with pads at 3.98 and 5.98. Car beds are 6.98 and 11.98.

These and countless other items for baby may be found at Wyckoff's. But I really shouldn't say "for baby". Most young couples buy good baby furniture as an investment, knowing it will probably serve more than one child. See our selection today (not of children . . . FURNITURE!)

Davenport-Schoonover Marriage

Announcement is made of the marriage of Jodie Davenport to Anita Schoonover on July 16 2 p.m. in the Second Presbyterian Church at Belvidere, N.J. by Rev. Mr. Walton.

The bride is the daughter of Albert Schoonover of Bushkill at Mrs. George Bellier of Wesco ville.

Her husband is the son of Sg and Mrs. Earl Wilson of Tob hanna. Their parents were present for the wedding, as were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Field of Hamlen, grand parents.

The bride wore a white lin dress with an orchid corsage. A reception was held following the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Counterman, East Stroudsburg. A four tier wedding cake was the centerpiece for the table.

Mr. and Mrs. Davenport spent a brief honeymoon in Atlantic City and are now at home at 163 Brown St., East Stroudsburg. They are both employed at the General Hospital of Monroe County. Mr. Davenport also works for Bender Gardens.

Bake Sales Scheduled By Women's Club

Saylorsburg — A bake sale will be held under the auspices of the Progressive Woman's Club of Saylorsburg on Saturday at the Lake Pavilion, Saylorsburg, from 2 to 4 p.m. and at Altemose's General Store and Sober's Meat Market in Brodheadsville from 9 to 11 a.m.

Mrs. Mary Jane Arner, finance chairman, and members of her committee, are in charge of plans for the sales.

Bet Rays Long Homer Defending Champ Bangor Crushes Pocono Stars 14-2

By JEFF COX
Sports Writer

ON THE strength of an inning full of Pocono errors and an inning full of Bangor base hits, the Bangor All-Stars crushed the Pocono Mountain All-Stars, 14-2, last night at East Stroudsburg.

Bangor is the defending champion of district 2, and its best defense last night was booming bats that had 13 hits.

Things opened up auspiciously for Pocono at the Eastburg Little League stadium. In the first inning George Kutis socked the first pitch of the game through the hole at second base for a single. He later scored when Ron Horst doubled. Horst scored on a single by Doug Miller. The score was 2-0.

Holland Homers
Barry Holland showed Bangor's strength to come when, as the first Bangor batter in the first, he worked the count to 3 and 2 and cracked a home run over the 210 foot sign in center field. The Pocono error derby happened in the fourth inning. Steve Jones reached first on first base.

man Greg Kirkwood's error, Dan Powlette was next up for Bangor and hit a sharp one to the shortstop. Jones was forced at second. Frank Scagliotta then reached first on another first sack error, and all were safe. Alan Godshalk was safe on an error by Doug Miller, the right fielder, and the bases were loaded. Barry Holland knocked in a run as he fled to left, and Alan Lobb drove in a run with his single. Alan Bet, Dale Houck, and Frank Dapkowski made bases safely on errors, and five runs had scored as the ball was slipping from the Pocono gloves.

Big Fourth
If the fourth inning was sickness, the fifth was death. The Bangor Stars scored eight runs, but this time on eight hits. Powlette singled, Scagliotta walked, Godshalk was safe on an error, Holland doubled, Lobb singled, and Horst left the mound. He changed places with first baseman Jeff Signin, who replaced Kirkwood. The first batter he faced was

Heller Bats
Crowe Past Club, 15-10

IN A GAME that saw 22 hits, Crowe Insurance downed the Exchange Club, 15-10, last night in a Babe Ruth tilt played at the East Stroudsburg Playground.

The only extra base hits were two for Torzillo of Crowe's, and an apiece for Bishong and Heller of the insurance team. Heller had four hits and five runs batted in. Each team had a five and a four run inning, but Crowe came up with two three-run innings to ice the game.

Bethlehem Too Sudden For Poconos; Wins Extra Tilt

By CURT PRINS
Sports Editor

BETHELEHEM got the sudden part and Pocono the death end, as Bethlehem scored three quick runs in the ninth inning to win last night's sudden-death playoff game in the District 4 Babe Ruth League playoffs at Gordon Giffels Field.

The game was a continuation of Thursday's game, which was called after eight innings because of darkness, with the score knotted 4-4. The win puts Bethlehem in the district finals tomorrow at Freeland.

What was expected to be at least a several inning game, took only 17 minutes but there was action to the end.

Quick Opening
Norh Ryan, who had finished strongly against Bethlehem Thursday, was back on the hill last night, with Tom Jenkins, who hurled the last two innings Thursday, pitching for Bethlehem. Neither came close to matching Thursday's performance.

Bethlehem shortstop Hank Saurine opened the game, actually it was the ninth inning, with a booming triple. He jumped on the first pitch from Ryan, a high fast ball and drilled it to deep right center. Saurine had a shot at an inside-the-park homer but since he was the first batter and with three chances to bring the run in, Saurine was held at third. He stayed there for only one pitch.

Bill Syderak, the tall first baseman, blooped a single down the left field line and it was 1-0, Bethlehem. Ryan fanned Charles Lobst and had a 1-2 count on stocky Tom Pireda, when Pireda crashed a fast ball seven rows up in the centerfield stands for a two-run homer. As the ball went in, Ryan went out and first baseman George Rinker replaced him.

Rinker got Henry Medilla on a pop up, walked Jenkins but Richard Sheske fled out to right field to end the damage.

Pocono, which had rallied for four runs in the last two regulation innings the night before, opened its attack quickly.

Shortstop Dave Ruelman ripped a double to right center and George Murphy moved him to third with a grass cutting single down the left field line. John Ryan brought Ruelman home with an infield out, with Ruelman scoring after the toss across the diamond from third to first.

Neil Costanzo was the second out, a pop up victim but Norh Ryan walked and Murphy stole third.

Bruce Knecht ended the action with a grounder to short and an easy force play on Ryan.

Aaron Bats Braves Past Pirates 5-3

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Henry Aaron got his 21st and 22nd home runs and drove in three runs Friday night, sparking the Milwaukee Braves to a 5-3 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Aaron's first homer came in the first inning following a double by Frank Bolling. His second was a bases-empty shot over the left field wall in the sixth.

The wiry rightfielder also stroked a single and scored a run in the fourth inning for a 3 for 4 night at the plate.

Right-handed Lew Burdette (11-6) received credit for the victory, but needed help in the eighth when the Pirates exploded for four hits and two runs.

Pirate starter Bob Friend was charged with the loss, his 12th in 21 decisions.

By now six runs had crossed the plate but Houck kept it alive with a single. There were still none out. Dapkowski then struck out, but Jones smacked a single.

Powlette, who had started the inning, hit a single, Scagliotta singled, and Godshalk's infield smash was grabbed and thrown to the plate, where they forced Powlette. Holland struck out for the last out.

Pocono Mountain had one more chance but went down in order in the last inning.

Lobb won the game, striking out three and walking none, and Horst took the loss, striking out three and walking one.

Horst gave up 11 runs, six of them earned. Signin finished, allowing three runs, three earned runs, no walks, and fanning two.

Also pleasing to Skorieh is the continued improvement of his rookies. Three of them, Irv Crowe, defensive back, Northwestern; Monte Lee, linebacker, Texas, and Don Balme, guard, Yale, were stickouts from the start here but in the last couple days another first year man, Don Oakes, 245-pound tackle from Virginia Tech, has begun to blossom. Oakes' speed and power make him a definite prospect.

Horse Strike May Affect Gotham Track

NEW YORK (AP)—State mediators met Friday with owners, trainers and striking stablehands but failed in an effort to settle a tangled labor dispute that could involve many other unions and disrupt the big racing program at Aqueduct Race Track Saturday.

The two mediators, Harry Silverman and Irving R. Shapiro, were sent in by the State Mediation Board when stablehands, hot walkers and exercise boys struck and picketed Aqueduct and Belmont Park.

They met separately with the owners and trainers and their legal counsel, and then with the union chief, John Burke, president of Local 917 of the Teamsters Union.

The nine-race program at Aqueduct was delayed a half hour Friday when the workers struck and picketed that track and Belmont Park.

The stablehands are seeking recognition of their union, less working hours, more pay, and improved insurance and hospitalization plans.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Hurricane Anna, first of the 1961 season, was about 100 miles toward the northern coast of South America yesterday with 90-mile-an-hour winds near the center.

At last report the hurricane was near latitude 12.3 north, longitude 66.1 west or about 200 miles east of Curacao, N.W.I., and 1,450 miles southeast of Miami, Fla.

It was moving on a general westward course at 17 m.p.h.

Gale force winds extend outward 100 miles in the northeast quadrant, 80 miles to the northwest and 40 miles in the southwest quadrant. Lowest general barometric pressure reported was 29.50 inches.

Hitler Story

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Munich's Institute for Modern History will publish a book Adolf Hitler wrote in 1928 but did not release because it gave away his war plans. The book, to be titled "Hitler's Second Book," is a sequel to his "Mein Kampf."

DID YOU ever look at the fine trees in the Stroudsburgs? Are you grateful for the vision of our forefathers who planted them for you to see? How bleak and barren our towns would be without the green leaves to refresh our eyes and cast cool shadows on the pavement.

Thomas Doughty loved trees and this painting "On The Susquehanna" demonstrates his interest in leaf forms and clearly places him as a typical "Leaf Painter" of the Hudson River School. However, despite the infinite detail he has managed to subdue this to create a well organized composition.

Legacy of Landscapes
He was born in 1793 and died in 1856, leaving a legacy of landscapes which establishes him as one of our earliest and best painters of that school.

Turning from a successful career in the leather business he started painting after a few drawing lessons. Almost entirely self taught he held his HARRISBURG (AP)—An Iowa firm has submitted the unofficial low bid on a contract to paint air markings in 125 Pennsylvania communities, the property and supplies department reported yesterday.

A bid of $7,250 was submitted by Brechtel, Inc., Des Moines, Iowa.

In other projects, W. S. Hammerman, Scranton, submitted the unofficial low bid of $11,500 on installation of new electric service at the Farview State Hospital in Wayne County.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Southern Democrats teamed with Republicans in the House yesterday to reject President Kennedy's plan to reorganize procedures of the National Labor Relations Board. The vote was 231-179.

Later, the Southern Democratic-Republican coalition didn't function when the House rejected, 218-181, a Republican effort to kill the War Relocation Authority and Maritime Board and give most of its powers to the secretary of commerce. This will become effective Aug. 11 unless the Senate vetoes it.

On the NLRB vote, 78 Democrats voted against the White House, along with 153 Republicans. Twelve Republicans joined 167 Democrats in supporting the plan which, in committee hearings, was heavily favored by unions and opposed by management spokesmen.
